Workright

Rocky Bay's lifestyle, leisure and learning programme offers learning opportunities for people living with disability. "Workright" focuses on 4 set units to develop your employability skill-sets such as being reliable, punctual, working as part of a team and completing tasks safely to the required standard of a workplace.

Workright can be carried out at your school, training provider, alternate day service or workplace.

Units cover:

- Health and safety at work
- Responsibilities in the workplace
- Working with others
- You at work

Qualification

Workright units can be completed in any order. Accredited certification is available on completion of all 4 units.

Rocky Bay is recognised as a leading non-profit organisation delivering ASDAN programmes. These programmes are designed to offer a flexible educational framework.
