

Artwork by Gloria Kearing

FINDING DIFFERENT WAYS

Don't be shame
to ask for help

Don't wait, if you're worried about your child

Disability affects families in different ways. If your family needs help speak to your doctor, child health nurse or Aboriginal Health Worker and let them know you're worried. They can help you to get more information from disability services.

For more information go to www.rockybay.org.au/fdw

Finding Different Ways is an initiative of Rocky Bay funded by the Disability Services Commission.

Rocky Bay would like to thank all community members who have advised on use of language and contributed to the Finding Different Ways resources.

