Early Start Intervention Program (ESIP)

Early Start Intervention Program (ESIP)

Rocky Bay's Early Start Intervention Program is an exciting new initiative aimed at providing children and their families at risk with access to specialist and comprehensive therapy services and support.

The ESIP program is specifically targeted towards children displaying signs and symptoms of significant developmental delay and/or developmental regression as well as risk factors associated with rare disease.

Eligibility Criteria

To be eligible for ESIP, children must meet the following criteria:

- Less than 5 years of age
- Significant developmental delay and/or regression and evidence of two or more of the following identified risk factors:
 - Abnormal muscle tone including hypertonia, hypotonia, dystonia and/or spasticity
 - Congenital malformations or anomalies including craniofacial anomalies
 - Diagnosed hearing and/or visual impairment
 - Feeding difficulty/Failure to thrive (FTT)
 - Hydrocephalus
 - Microcephaly

- Musculoskeletal anomalies i.e. short stature, limb deformity, spinal deformity
- Proximal and/or distal significant muscular weakness or muscle atrophy
- Prenatal Intrauterine Growth Restriction (IUGR)

Participants must also meet the following criteria:

- Live within the Perth Metropolitan area
- Be a permanent resident of Australia
- Not currently accessing the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS)
 - NOTE: participants may be eligible for NDIS funding

Children who do not meet eligibility criteria for ESIP, may still be eligible for our Rocky Bay Early Intervention service.

The key objectives of ESIP are the following:

- To provide comprehensive community based, intensive, multidisciplinary, family centered services and support to at risk children and their families
- To provide evidence-based multidisciplinary early intervention within critical periods of development to improve motor outcomes and quality of life
- To advocate for children and their families to obtain adequate services and if appropriate provide evidence to assist in meeting eligibility criteria for longer term funding and support from the National Disability Insurance Scheme
- To work collaboratively with key stakeholders, community organisations and referrers to enhance communication and support surrounding at risk children and their families

ESIP Service Delivery Model

Rocky Bay is committed to providing comprehensive therapy support and services to participants deemed eligible for the ESIP for up to 12 months of intervention.

We are currently recruiting up to 36 participants to be part of the inaugural Early Start Intervention Program.

Each participant will receive intensive intervention from our high experienced multidisciplinary team including:

- Physiotherapy
- Speech Pathology
- Occupational Therapy

Each child and family will begin their journey with developmentally appropriate assessments to assist in developing individualised goals to guide targeted intervention. Serial assessments will be conducted regularly and information utilised for written reports to assist in advocacy for longer term funding through the NDIS and other appropriate services and supports.

Intervention will take place within the home environment or other natural settings appropriate to the child and family. Our aim as therapists is to upskill caregivers to embed therapy into the child's every day routines and encourage activity and participation to create opportunities for practice of skills to aid motor development.

In addition, each participant will also receive up to four blocks of weekly group hydrotherapy located at our hydrotherapy pool at our head office in Mosman Park.

Referral Process

- Complete online referral form located on our website rockybay.org.au/early-start-intervention-program/
- Provide copies of supporting documentation including any written medical reports or developmental assessment findings completed by allied health professionals (with child and family consent)
